

Art and Globalization (The Stone Art Theory Institutes)

The biennale culture now determines much of the art world. Literature on the worldwide dissemination of art assumes nationalism and ethnic identity, but rarely analyzes it. At the same time there is extensive theorizing about globalization in political theory, cultural studies, postcolonial theory, political economy, sociology, and anthropology. Art and Globalization brings political and cultural theorists together with writers and historians concerned specifically with the visual arts in order to test the limits of the conceptualization of the global in art. Among the major writers on contemporary international art represented in this book are Fredric Jameson, Susan Buck-Morss, Caroline Jones, Rasheed Araeen, Nestor Garcia Canclini, Thomas DaCosta Kaufmann, Anthony D. King, Harry Harootunian, Shigemi Inaga, Ming Tiampo, Keith Moxey, C. J. W.-L. Wee, John Clark, Michael Ann Holly, Iftikhar Dadi, T. J. Demos, Partha Mitter, Suman Gupta, Saskia Sassen, Charles Green, and Joaquin Barriendos. Art and Globalization is the first book in the Stone Art Theory Institutes Series. The five volumes, each on a different theoretical issue in contemporary art, build on conversations held in intensive, weeklong closed meetings. Each volume begins with edited and annotated transcripts of those meetings, followed by assessments written by a wide community of artists, scholars, historians, theorists, and critics. The result is a series of well-informed, contentious, open-ended dialogues about the most difficult theoretical and philosophical problems we face in rethinking the arts today.
